CONGRESS AND FINANCE.

What it Likely to Befall the Various Resolutions Now Pending.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The House Committee on Banking and Currency disagree about Price's bill, exempting from taxation bank deposits subject to sight drafts. The committee today fixed Wednesday for the consideration of Price's and Fort's legal tender resolutions and the opposing proposition of Lounsberry to take away the legal tender quality of greenbacks. A member of the committee says that the chances for a report upon any of them is small, as a majority of the committee think the best way to prevent any disturbance of the present status of the greenback is not to report either for or against the withdrawal of its legal tender quality. The Senate Finance Committee will have a meeting this afternoon to consider the Bayard and other legal tender resolutions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The eight-hour league men are organizing for an attack upon Congress, and have selected Dick Trevelick, of Detroit; A. R. Parsons, of Chicago; D. D. Lum, secretary of Hendrick B. Wright, a committee on the depression of labor, and John G. Miles, of Philadelphia, as a committee to secure some action of Congress enforcing the eight-hour law.

The action of the House Committee on Elections in permitting McCabe, of Indiana, who wants to contest ex Governor Orth's seat, to commence his case now is unprecedented in the history of contested election cases. More than a year had expired before McCabe did anything; now he comes to Congress and asks that the laws be changed for his benefit, and the Democrats are going to do it.

It has been stated in the Committee of Banking and Currency that General Ewing, of Ohio, had made a large sum of money in a fortunate silver investment and had otherwise been lucky in stock speculations. He has not been in Washington so far during this session.

The United States Court is now in session at Knoxville, Tennessee, Judge Baxter presiding, and there are under arrest and awaiting trial 230 illicit distillers, who have been arrested and indicted within the last few months. Upon the recommendation of Secretary Sherman and Commissioner Raum, the Attorney-General has directed that if the prisoners will plead guilty and pay the costs, sentences shall be suspended during good behavior.

A party of Republican Senators called upon the President a few days ago and asked that none but Republicans be appointed as census supervisors in the South. They were not entirely satisfied with the President's attitude, and it is about settled that Democrats will be appointed in the whole of the South.

The European fish culturists hold a grand International Exhibition at Berlin in April, and have sent a pressing invitation to Professor Baird to be present and exhibit the progress that has been made in fish culture in this country. Professor Baird would like to go, but he has no money to pay the the expense. Representative Douster, of Wisconsin, will introduce a bill appropriating $20,000 to be available at once for this purpose.

THE INDIANS TO HAVE A BATH AND CLEAN CLOTHES.

Today the Ute Indians in this city will be treated to a bath and general scouring, after which they will be clothed in ready-made suits of civilized patterns. The Indians still complain of fatigue consequent on their long journey by rail, a style of travelling to which they have never been accustomed. Ouray thinks they will be sufficiently rested in two or three days to confer with Secretary Schurz.

TAX ON NATIONAL BANK DEPOSITS.

Financial Questions to be Decided.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The Committee on Banking and Currency, by vote of four to four, today refused to report the proposition to take the tax off of deposits in national banks. This virtually defeats the measure for the present session. They decided to take up all propositions affecting the financial question at their next meeting, and determine whether to recommend legislation or not, so as to relieve the country from any further uncertainty on this question.

THE CONFUSION IN MAINE.

Smith, the Greenbacker, to be Elected Governor, and Made to Fight Chamberlain.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 14.—The Fusionist House met promptly at ten o'clock this morning, and it was evident from the beginning that something important was on the tapis. A large crowd of spectators had been attracted to the hall, as there was a general belief that the election of a Governor would come up before the close of the day. After a prayer an order was passed directing the Clerk to prepare an official register of the members. At his suggestion the Speaker appointed a Committee on Elections, as follows: Messrs. Dickey, of Fort Kemp; Rowson, of Thomaston; Young, of Brunswick; Herd, of Biddeford; Hill, of Corinth; Swan, of Minot, and Benner, of Waldboro. The committee retired immediately, and are now in secret session.

The latest report is that the Fusionists, after seating enough members to make a quorum in the House, will proceed to elect Joseph L. Smith, the Greenback candidate for Governor. They have determined to take a decisive stand, and they expect that Smith will, immediately after his election, issue a proclamation, announcing his authority, and calling on the people of the state to support him. The Fusionists feel that they made a great mistake in not pursuing this course at the outset, and that the Republicans have gained courage from their dilatoriness. A conflict will occur if the Republicans adhere to their present plans and the Supreme Judicial Court decides in their favor.

The excitement in the city and throughout the state has been reawakened by the events of the past twenty-four hours, and more especially by the action of General Chamberlain in refusing to recognize the authority of Mr. Lamson, President of the Fusionist Senate, as Acting Governor. The Fusionists are especially severe in their criticism of General Chamberlain's position, and it is possible that a collision may be precipitated which will result seriously to the peace of the state. Some of the more radical leaders are in favor of a sort of drumhead court-martial settlement, and should this be attempted bloodshed will undoubtedly follow.

It is understood that the Fusion House Election Committee will prepare a report, which will be presented to the House, and will embody the Fusionists' views of the questions in dispute regarding the titles of members of the Legislature and the legality of the action of both this and the Republican Legislature. It will also recommend a course of action for the final settlement of all the questions now in dispute. It is reported that Hale, of Ellsworth, and Poulter, of Bucksport, will be admitted to their seats by the Fusionists.

FUSIONIST EFFORT TO UNSEAT A REPUBLICAN REPRESENTATIVE.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 14.—The House met at 3 o'clock this afternoon and reported that that committee had unanimously agreed to report in favor of unseating Joseph Dunnell, the Republican member from West Brooke, and seating Merritt W. Styles, a Democrat, on the ground that Dunnell had but two majority, and three men, at least, voted for him who had no right to do so.

Mr. Hill, of the committee, had intended to bring in a minority report. The committee was not appointed until this morning, and Mr. Dunnell had no opportunity to appear and be heard. He was a Greenbacker and had no love for the Republican party, but was here to do his duty fairly and squarely. He wanted no such judgment and moved the report be recommitted.

Mr. Swan was for immediate action. This is a legal House and no power on earth can overturn it. This is no time for delay, but for action. Right and justice must triumph over disorder and anarchy. He was for seating Mr. Styles at once.

Mr. Perry, of Camden, was ready to give Mr. Styles his seat at once. Why this delay from day to day? Our constituents are asking "why this delay?" Why are 100 or 200 extra police in this capitol and crowding these galleries? It is one of the games of intimidation of the Republican party. Vote as your consciences dictate without intimidation.

Mr. Bradbury and Mr. Ingalls were for delay. We should wait and see if time would not evolve peace out of the present excitement.

Mr. Hill said: "If we are right, we can afford to wait, and if wrong, we have gone far enough."

The report was recommitted by more than two to one, a triumph for the conservative element. The object of seating Styles is to make a quorum. The House then adjourned.

THE ALARM IN THE STATE.

The Fusionists are busy holding caucuses tonight, and it is hinted that the forward movement postponed today will be vigorously pressed tomorrow.

It is reported that Attorney McClellan is preparing a warrant for the arrest of General Chamberlain.

There is a police force of 150 men at the State House tonight and sentinels are placed on the outside at the entrance.

The report that Mr. Hale is ill is not true. He was never in better health than at the present time. Several Fusionists refused to attend the caucus tonight.

Fifty men, headed by Col Heath, came from Waterville tonight and proceeded to the State House, where they are quartered.

A DISASTROUS FLOOD.

Great Suffering.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—A cable dispatch from St. Thomas, of January 13, states that there were floods on Sunday on the Island of St. Kitts, by which two hundred lives were lost and property to the extent of $250,000 destroyed, and the whole island devastated. The floods originated on Mount Misery, and swept down in torrents and finally into the valley of Basseterre at its base. The inhabitants fled in terror to the coast. The torrent rolled on into the town of Basseterre among the newly-built houses and public edifices, carrying with it roofs, trees, timbers and branches of trees. The sugar cane is levelled to the ground or torn up in masses. Deep gulleys are washed in the roads. The sugar houses and dwelling places were borne bodily away and the waters rushed headlong into the sea with their freight of drowned cattle and struggling human beings.

The population of the island does not exceed 25,000, and of these 200 perished, and many of the rest are homeless. The people huddled together on the roofs, wild with terror. The authorities went immediately to relieve their distress. Large quantities of provisions and all the sugar ready for shipment have been swept away. Earnest appeals are made for help. St Kitts has known no such calamity since 1722, when a terrific hurricane nearly destroyed the island.

RUSSIA AND THE CZAR.

His Schemes of Reforms and the Chance of Their Adoption.

VIENNA, Jan. 14.—There is abundant reason to believe that exceedingly important political changes in Russia are on the eve of accomplishment. The Czar, notwithstanding the mental depression to which he is subject at not infrequent intervals, contemplates the perfection of several schemes of reform, which he has himself originated. If he were less vacillating, and did not betray too openly his distrust of all his advisers, these reforms would soon be placed in process of adoption. The general tendency of them is to restore local self-government to the communes and cities, and to establish something like a constitutional legislature for general purposes. The Czarewitch is known to be in favor of these reforms, and it is thought that the Czar will ere long recognize the necessity of adopting them. The condition of the country continues to be critical, and the strain in all quarters is so great that it is thought a change in some direction cannot long be prevented.

Sir Edwin Landseer was once looking at his own pictures in the South Kensington Museum, and seeing some dust on one of them, leaned over the barrier and wiped it off with his handkerchief. Instantly a policeman asked him, "What are you a-doing of, a-touching of that there picture?" "Why," answered Sir Edwin, smiling, "I've often touched it before." "Have you though!" cried the indignant officer; "then more shame to yer! You come along wi' me." And he walked off the unresisting painter to the officers of the museum, who of course recognized the culprit and condoned his offence.

EUROPEAN NOTES.

GERMANY ALARMED BY THE PREPARATIONS OF HER FOES.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—The action of the French and Russian Governments in increasing their armies has determined the German Government to follow suit, greatly to the disgust and dissatisfaction of the country generally, and in particular of the classes from whom the additional troops are to be drawn. The strength of the Imperial army on a peace footing is in round numbers 420,000 men, with 97,000 horses and 1,200 guns. On a war footing it is about 1,800,000 men with 282,000 horses, and 2,700 guns, not including the second class of the Landsturm. It is understood that the first reserves will be summoned at the outset for the purpose of filling up the gaps in the regiments and battalions now in arms. There is much activity in army circles, and the feeling prevails that the peace of Europe cannot much longer be maintained. In case of the outbreak of hostilities Germany will be able to mobilize her entire army, if necessary, with a rapidity and precision not excelled by any other country in Europe. It is asserted by officers, military officials and attaches of the War Office that the proposed increase of the army is merely precautionary, and not due to any special and accepted program of action, but solely to the aggressive attitude of other continental powers. It is, however, no ominous fact that the works of Herr Krupp are running night and day without cessation, to fill orders that have been received from the German War Office.

A SIDE SLAP AT PARNELL.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—The Irish clergy declare their willingness and ability to receive and properly disburse all funds contributed for the relief of the distressed people of Ireland unaided and unhampered by politicians. They, therefore, again invite charitable people of all lands to forward contributions to them direct without the intervention of third parties. The system of Government loans is declared to be progressing satisfactorily and to satisfy the people. It is also alleged that the commonest event or insignificant disturbance is greatly magnified and distorted, thereby doing great injustice to the character of the Irish people.

SCHOSSA, THE WOULD-BE ASSASSIN.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Schossa, the man who attempted the other morning to assassinate the priest of the Hatton Garden Church while at mass, admits that he is a Socialist, but denies that he had confederates in the crime. He is not a German, but evades giving his nationality. He is more recently from New York, where he has resided three years and left his wife there.

PERSIA, RUSSIA AND ENGLAND.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The inducement offered by Great Britain to Persia to occupy Herat as an offset to the operations of Russia in Merv has failed, because of the counter-influence and superior diplomacy of the Czar's Government. Representatives of the Shah decline to pull England's chestnuts out of the Russian fire.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The Journal des Debats says that M. Leon Say, Minister of Finance, intends converting the rentes, reducing the fives to four and one half per cent., and guaranteeing that no further conversion shall take place for ten years.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—A German Consul General at Sidney, New South Wales, has been appointed at a salary of 20,000 marks. A Consul has also been appointed at Samoa. The North German Gazette announces that adequate security against anarchy in Samoa has been guaranteed by Germany, England and the United States jointly recognizing and supporting King Malietoa.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—At a Liberal demonstration at Oxford, yesterday, the Marquis of Harcourt, in an exhaustive speech, severely attacked the Government.

RECORDER HACKETT AS A SHOT.

Mr. Hackett was no doubt one of the best shots living with the pistol, and was scarcely less skillfull with the rifle and shot gun. In using the latter his perceptions were as swift and sure as those of an Indian. When chatting quietly in the act of passing through a thicket, he would often throw up his fowling piece and suddenly fire. His companions would be at a loss to know at what he had aimed. But the result always justified his act. The tremble of a leaf, "a sound so fine that nothing lived twixt it and silence," or some other warning, unheeded by a duller sense had taught the unerring sportsman where to send his fatal charge. Nor did he lose his subtle faculties as he grew older. The same skill that in earlier days he showed in California, where his skill is memorable to this day, as shown by achievements in San Mateo, Oakland and San Jose, was as brilliantly illustrated for many a year afterward in the covers of Winchester and Long Island. The experiments for which Mr. Hackett became famous—such as splitting an apple resting on another person's head, or striking small coins from the fingers, with a pistol shot—have been censured as foolhardy, and it cannot be denied that such hazards should not have been incurred by either of the parties to them. Yet it is fair to say that, since no accident ever happened from those critical trials that were probably thousands of times repeated, Mr. Hackett's confidence was to that extent justified. His self-trust in this respect was almost miraculous: and we are able to exemplify it by an anecdote, never before, if we mistake not, seen in print. The story may be accepted as that of an eye-witness, and is as follows: At the Mission Dolores, close to San Francisco, a Western lad of twenty years had often supported apples and held coins for Mr. Hackett to practice upon in this perilous fashion, and one day on the occasion of a little dinner party, a special exhibition was to be had. The marksman was to cleave an apple on the youth's head at ten paces. Before the time came, however, an ingenious gentleman, celebrated in the East as well as the West for his practical jokes, bribed the lad to go through a carefully rehearsed scene. He was provided with a clot of blood-colored paint, and instructed to secrete this in his hand just before the show. At the report of the pistol he was to spin around, clap the paint to his forehead as he turned his back to Mr. Hackett, give a yell, vault high in the air and fall to the ground. All this was actually and carefully done in the presence of five or six persons who had dined together. The expectation, of course, was that Mr. Hackett would be stricken with horror, and rush forward instantly to his weltering victim; but when, instead, the marksman quietly sat down where he stood, and with his own peculiar smile, proceeded to light a cigar, a tale was told that the amused witnesses have never forgotten. William Tell was less positive of his results with the cross-bow than John K. Hackett with his revolver.—[N. Y. Evening Post.

.....On one occasion Salvini and Rossi were to appear in the same piece at an Italian opera. The manager was at a loss how to have the bills printed. He dared not put the name of one of the two equally renowned actors first, for fear of mortally offending the other. Finally he hit upon the happy expedient of printing both names diagonally so that they crossed each other upon the play-bill like a letter X.

.....Mrs. J. J. Astor has sent out recently from the office of the Children's Aid Society a "New Year party" of 100 homeless children to homes in the West and South, at an expense of $1,500. This makes, during seven years, a total number of 667 homeless children whom this generous friend of the poor has placed in homes, mainly in the West, at an expense of $9750. Many of these lads have now grown up, having farms of their own and doing well in the world.

.....The ex-Empress Eugenie will sail from England next month in the steamer Danube for the purpose of visiting Zululand and placing wreaths, etc., on the spot where the prince imperial was killed. The cabin occupied by the prince will be placed at the disposal of the empress, together with its original fittings. The horses and carriage used by the prince will also be placed at her service. Her majesty will visit the place where the prince resided in Natal and subsequently with her suit travel by the route taken by the prince, in ox wagons specially fitted up for their accommodation. The empress will go direct to Natal, where she will be privately received.

A ship load of provisions will do more now for the relief of the suffering Irish than the most eloquent course of lectures of the most dazzling schemes for the redistribution of land, says the Christian at Work; and it trusts that a committee of citizens will speedily take hold of this matter; relief cannot be sent one day too soon; and it need not and ought not to be sent through Mr. Parnell.

BRONTE'S PLUCK.

Men are made invincible by pluck. But it is not so much courage to fight an enemy whose power you do not know, that is bravery. Courage is the entire comprehension of the danger in every respect and the quiet and unalterable determination to meet it at whatever cost. The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 137 Thames street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 00 a year. A discount of 60 cents is made when the whole year is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent, extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 60 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 1880

The Boston Transcript proposes Sherman and Chamberlain as the Republican ticket for 1880.

A meeting to promote the movement for a world's fair in this country in 1883 was held in New York last evening.

A disastrous storm in Oregon last week destroyed much property in the vicinity of Portland and several lives were lost.

The finance committee of the Senate yesterday decided to report adversely Senator Bayard's resolution for divesting the greenback of its legal-tender quality.

The overseers of the poor in a county in New York state stopped relieving a family just as soon as they found out that the wife had sold thirty-one pounds of their pork to buy a canary bird.

Mr. Parnell was well received in Fall River last night and addressed a large audience in the Academy of Music. Mayor Green presided. $1500 has been raised, in the city so far for the cause.

The annual examination of the State Normal School, Providence, takes place, Thursday, the 22d, at half past nine. The graduation exercises will be held on Friday, the next day, from ten o'clock to twelve.

Two ferry boats collided in New York harbor yesterday, with a crash that was heard two blocks away. One sunk within five minutes, but the passengers and crew were rescued without injury. The other boat escaped with little damage.

Mr. Edison can afford to invite the investigation of scientific men. His electric lights in Menlo Park, N. J., had been burning steadily 608 hours at 9 o'clock Monday morning. If the invention is not a success, it seems wonderfully like it.—[Boston Post.

St. Kitts, in the West Indies, one of the Leeward islands, was devastated by a flood on Sunday. Two hundred lives were lost and property valued at $250,000 destroyed. A number of cattle were drowned, and vast quantities of provision and sugar destroyed.

The Chicago City Council has practically repealed the law prohibiting the erection of combustible wooden buildings within the city limits. The new ordinance permits the erection of two story sheds, stables and barns all over the city, and the papers protest against its becoming a law, and call on the Mayor to veto it.

The richest thing yet is the proposition to expel Eugene Hale from the Fusion House of Representatives in Maine. A few days ago a movement was on foot to arrest him and compel him to come in and take his seat. Failing in that they now propose to turn him out. If there was ever a set of men who did not know what to do with themselves it is these Maine conspirators.

Governor Blackburn, of Kentucky, in his annual message, portrays vividly the terrible condition of the Penitentiary of that state. There are 173 more prisoners than cells, and the cells themselves are but three feet nine and a half inches wide, six feet three and a half inches high and six feet eight inches long. These holes, dark and ill-ventilated, do not contain sufficient air to support one man, and the death rate gives abundant proof of it, as seventy-four convicts died last year. All this is very creditable to Governor Blackburn and shows an improvement in his feelings since the days when he proposed to systematically spread yellow fever and small pox among the women and children of Northern cities.

The accounts of the terrible storm at St. Kitts are heartrending in the extreme. This island, which has just been desolated by floods, was settled by English colonists under Sir Thomas Warner in 1623, was held afterward by the English and French, and finally was ceded to Great Britain by the treaty of Versailles in 1783. In 1872, it joined the confederation of the Leeward Islands, the Legislature of which sits at St. John's, Antigua, and Basseterre, in alternate years. It belongs to Great Britain, and is governed by a president, an executive council appointed by the crown, and a legislative assembly, half of whose members are elected. In 1869 the imports were valued at £198,712; exports, £222,712.

The Indian question is full of anomalies. Ouray and his associates now at Washington are so closely watched that not even a newspaper reporter is able to break through the lines. Still some sharp sayings of Ouray get out. Here is one of them: "If a murder were committed here in Washington would your authorities make the whole population suffer for it?" The implication is that what would not be done in Washington is done at the agencies; but this is not the whole or the worst of it. Under the Indian system, or the lack of one, which has prevailed for many years, often a whole tribe of red men has to "suffer for it" even when no murder has been committed. The last proposition to place the Utes on a smaller reservation, give each of them 160 acres of land and treat them as fellow beings is the best that can be done. There is no reason why an Indian should be treated better than a white man or worse than a negro. The red skins have been nursed in barbarism long enough. They should be brought under the law and made to obey while on the other hand they should be allowed all the protection that the law affords to other classes. The folly of the old system is seen on a small scale in the persistent keeping up of a separate nationality in Rhode Island where we have a tribe of Narragansetts with not a single Narragansett Indian in it.

THE WILD BOOM IN IRON.

The Chicago Tribune does not take a roseate view of the iron boom. The marvellous inflation of prices that has taken place in the last few months in this country has started into activity every idle and bankrupt furnace in Europe and America, to meet a present demand for their products.

American manufacturers have been determined to make the most out of the situation. Each order has been followed by an additional rise in prices. Prices of domestic iron and steel have reached such figures that it has been cheaper to import, and pay the heavy duties and freights than to wait and pay the advancing prices at home.

American manufacturers have also been largely importing pig iron and found it cheaper than to purchase American pig. The British iron and steel market revived under orders from this country. Their mills and furnaces, which had put out their fires and discharged their operatives, resumed business.

Under the strong demand from the United States they, too, advanced their rates, and have made the price of iron and steel as high as was possible to admit exportation and the payment of the higher duties. For a long time prior to 1879, foreign pig iron had ceased to be imported, but now, notwithstanding the large importations of pig and other forms of iron and steel, the price is one hundred per cent. greater than one year ago, all brought about by the eagerness of the American manufacturers to "kill the goose."

—Mr. F. B. Tompkins is in town.

—The ice prospect does not improve.

—The revenue cutter Grant was in the harbor last evening.

—Mrs. Gov. Van Zandt is at Concord, N. H., visiting her sister, Mrs. Eastman.

—Mr. W. A. Jack, Jr., lectures on Temperance on Sunday evening in Providence.

—Mr. H. B. Winship, of the firm of J. B. Barnaby & Co., of Providence, is in town.

—Business at the Telephone Exchange will not be interrupted by the removal of the central office.

—Mr. E. T. Potter and family leave town for New York today, where they will reside during the remainder of the winter.

—His Honor, the Mayor, has suspended Officer Curtis from duty, but for what reason we have been unable to ascertain.

—His Excellency, Gov. Van Zandt, arrived in town last evening, and is stopping at the Perry House. He will return to Providence on tomorrow.

—The difficulty among the operatives in the Perry and Aquidneck Mills has been satisfactorily adjusted and all the help are at work. An advance in wages was decided upon. The managers of the mills took the wisest possible course.

—Messrs. Titus & Freeborn have just completed recarpeting the Union Church, Portsmouth, and have secured the contract to furnish the carpet for the United Congregational Church in this city. The contract calls for about six hundred square yards.

—A report was generally circulated yesterday that Daniel McDonald was frozen to death the previous day. Such, however, was not the case. He died very suddenly at the residence of his brother, but there it no doubt that his end was hastened by exposure and intemperance.

—The brig S. P. Smith is grounded on Gravelly Point. When she floated off she had two feet of water in her hold. As far as can be ascertained neither vessel or cargo are injured. Capt. Waters is to be congratulated upon his success in saving so much valuable property.

—A horse attached to a wagon belonging to the Gas Light company, slipped and fell on Thames street near the Lead Works yesterday afternoon. The driver, Jerry Duggan, was thrown under the fore feet of the horse and in its efforts to recover its foothold the horse struck the driver, inflicting quite a severe flesh wound on his leg, which will cause him to walk with a cane for several days. No damage was done to the wagon except a broken shaft.

—Mr. John Tompkins was found in his apartments on John street last evening by City Marshal Brayton in a very deplorable condition. He was sitting in his chair where it is said he had been for seven consecutive days and nights, and that, too, without eating anything. There was plenty of food on the table in front of him but he refused to touch it saying he wanted to die. He was induced to go to the Clarendon Hotel where the landlord, Mr. Malgan, guarantees to care for him. He lived alone. Mr. Tompkins was at one time one of the leading citizens of the place. He is respected by all who know him.

BAD COMPANY.—City Marshal Brayton, acting upon the advice of his Honor, the Mayor, entered a dwelling-house on Houston avenue yesterday and there found Helen Spooner, Adelaide West, Charles Marley, Jr., and a soldier, all of whom were under the influence of liquor. Warrants were served on all four and the memorable fine, $4 60 was paid by the soldier and Miss Spooner. Mrs. West plead not guilty and was sent to jail, being unable to secure the amount of bail. Marley also pleaded not guilty but was fortunate in getting the necessary bail. Marley was released from the county jail on Saturday last, and it would appear from this fact that his incarceration had little or no effect upon him.

RHODE ISLAND HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—At the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Historical Society held in Providence, a letter was read from Mr. Francis Brinley, of this city, regretting his inability to be present. Mr. George C. Mason, of Newport, presented through the Secretary his report as Procurator, taking decided grounds in favor of earnest efforts to secure biographical sketches of distinguished deceased citizens. Rev. E. M. Stone made a verbal report in reference to some historical documents which may be procured of Mr. James C. Mauran of Newport. Mr. Mason was elected Procurator for Newport and Dr. Henry E. Turner was elected one of a committee of three on genealogical researches.

NEW HOLLY TREE INN.—The managers of the Holly Tree Coffee rooms, whose first operations were begun about three years ago, have for some time had under consideration the opening of a second room, in the upper part of the city. Their plans have been put in practical operation in the leasing of a pleasantly situated room on Long wharf, opposite the City wharf. The rooms, which are large and very well adapted to their purpose, have been nicely papered and painted, and after an examination of the premises, and a testing of the capabilities of their steward, Mr. Ages, on Wednesday afternoon, by the committee and a few invited guests, it was decided to open the rooms today. Coffee rooms associations are now so well known both in this country and in England that it is only necessary to say that the purpose is to furnish the very best of coffee and refreshments at as low a price as they can be afforded, the price being as nearly as possible but five cents for each article. A good reading room furnished with the latest papers is also free to all who choose to visit it, whether customers or not. The hope and desire of the managers is that it may prove a pleasant and attractive resort free from all that is in any way objectionable. Great credit is due the public-spirited citizens who have so materially aided the laudable enterprise.

MARINE SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Newport Marine Society was held yesterday and the following officers were elected for the present year:

President—Samuel C. Bailey.
Treasurer—Samuel Lee.
Secretary—Oliver Potter.

The society has about 400 members and a fund of $25,000, the interest of which is expended annually in aiding the widows of its deceased members, and those of its surviving members needing aid. It has done a great deal of good in the past.

INSTALLATION.

D. D. G. M. Enoch G. Young installed the officers of Esther Lodge, No. 5, D. of R., last evening. They are as follows:

N. G.—John D. Pike.
V. G.—Mrs. Chas. H. Burdick.
Secretary—Mrs. Mary S. Pitman.
Treasurer—Mrs. Julia Carry.
Chaplain—Mrs. J. M. Matteson.
Conductor—Mrs. H. Jouvet.
Warden—Mrs. John M. Carr.
R. S. N. G.—Mrs. John H. Bacheller.
L. S. N. G.—Mrs. Joshua Peckham.
R. S. V. G.—Mrs. Jere. Parmenter.
L. S. N.G.—Mrs. Fred A. Barlow.
I. G.—Mrs. Stephen Goddard.
O. G.—Mrs. Duckworth.
P. G.—John F. Delano.

HUMPTY DUMPTY AND THE SPANISH STUDENTS FRIDAY EVENING.—Of the above great company which appears in the Opera House tomorrow evening the Boston Herald says:

"Humpty Dumpty," with its world of jollity, and its wilderness of scenic beauties, has passed away like a vision—and a very pleasant one, just as was the reality. It is certain that no approach to such a performance of the famous pantomime was ever before given in Boston. Then, too, the introduction of the Spanish Students was a sensation (the sensation of the season in all America, as to that,) which had an electric recognition from the enraptured public. Their provoking confinement on the unruly Atlantic deprived Boston of nearly two weeks of their exquisite entertainments, but we trust Boston is sufficiently grateful for what it got, it being so superlatively and supremely good.

THE STORM IN OREGON.

Telegraphic communication with Portland, which has been interrupted for a week, is restored. A despatch dated 9th instant says Portland was visited by the most severe storm known since the settlement of the country. The direction of the wind at the commencement of the storm was southwest, but later it veered to the south; but little rain accompanied the gale. The damage to property in the city is estimated at $75,000. The steeple of the First Presbyterian Church was prostrated. Seven small houses were blown down, and many roofs torn off, including the roof of the court house and a portion of the new Market Theatre. While the gale was at its height Bremen hall, a large two story wooden building, was prostrated, and four men were caught under the ruin. Jack O'Donnell sustained severe injuries, and Henry P. Heinrich was killed. Reports from the interior indicate that a storm raged with great violence. The obstruction of the roads will in many localities for a time stagnate business, owing to fallen timber. The damage to railroad bridges will delay trains for several days. At Umatilla much damage was done. The gale attained for a short time a velocity of eighty miles an hour. A number of houses were blown down, but so far as is known there was but little loss of life. Great numbers of cattle are reported killed from falling barns and trees. Two men, named Mason and Kendle, were frozen to death Saturday night near Young Station on the Northern Pacific Rail road.

There is now on exhibition at No. 158 Tremont street, Boston, an automatic system of ventilation, designed for public halls and for purifying the air in sickrooms. The principle applied is to condense air in a refrigerator at the top of a building and then conduct it through pipes to distributing points on the floor where it is wanted. The heated air passes out at the top of the room, and a constant circulation, it is claimed by the inventor, is maintained. The exhibition will continue several days.

RHODE ISLAND REFORM CLUB

At the annual session of the Rhode Island Reform club, held in Providence yesterday, President Palmer of this city was in the chair. Delegates were present from a number of clubs throughout the state, who gave encouraging reports of the progress of the work in their respective localities. The session opened with devotional exercises, after which a statement of the financial condition of the club was submitted, showing a small indebtedness, which was cleared up by voluntary contributions. The remainder of the session was devoted to a discussion of ways and means to secure a larger representation from the local clubs. It was decided to lay before the various clubs of the state a statement of the objects of the state organization, with a view to securing their coöperation, and to hold a meeting within a short time, when delegates would be invited to attend.

At the afternoon session the annual election of officers was proceeded with, resulting as follows:

President—Wm. Macomber, of Providence.
Vice Presidents—Samuel Grafton, of South Providence; Edward Quinn, of Providence.
Secretary—W. A. Jack, Jr., of Newport.
Assistant Secretary—C. F. Denison, of Providence.
Treasurer—John Chase, of Providence.
Marshal—Daniel R. Caswell, of Newport.
Chaplain—H. F. Ferrin, of Providence.
State Lecturer—Henry S. Woodworth, of Providence.
Board of Management—The President, Secretary and Treasurer ex-officio; J. R. Palmer, of Newport; H. F. Ferrin, of Providence; L. B. Pease, of Woonsocket; Alfred Dawson, of Providence.

The club adjourned to meet in Providence on the 17th of March, at 10:30 A. M., in the hall of the Providence Reform club.

REV. H. J. VAN DYKE, JR., AND THE BROOKLYN PRESBYTERY.

At the reunion of the Brooklyn Presbytery held on Tuesday the Rev. Henry J. Van Dyke, of this city, had presented and read the following letter which speaks for itself:

BROOKLYN. Jan. 13, 1880.

To the Moderator and Members of the Presbytery of Brooklyn:

It is a matter of deep regret to me that, owing to a sudden and unannounced change in your place of meeting yesterday, I was prevented from being present at your session. The action which you took at that meeting, together with other causes, brings to me the painful necessity of severing my connection with the Presbytery of Brooklyn. Permit me to state my reasons:—

You have just denied an appeal on the part of an slandered individual for judicial investigation under the following circumstances:—A member of this Presbytery on the morning of Sunday, December 7, previous to the administration of the communion, read from his pulpit an accusation against certain other members of this Presbytery charging them with persecution, falsehood, espionage and moral rottenness. One of the members, acting under the Book of Discipline, chapter 3, section 6, appealed to you for a judicial investigation. For the sake of an appearance of peace you refused to grant this lawful right. You have therefore left the Presbytery in this position—Either it contains malicious and unjust persecutors whose character is morally rotten, or it contains a man who uses the pulpit and the communion to shelter him in slandering his brethren. I am not willing to remain in connection with such a body.

And, therefore, although my regard for the faith and order of true Presbyterianism remains unchanged and my gratitude to those members of the Presbytery who have shown me great kindness in the past will never fail, I desire to sever my connection with the Presbytery of Brooklyn. God willing, I shall continue to work as a minister of Christ in connection with the United Congregational Church, of Newport, R. I., and I humbly pray that you will absolve me from any further subjection to you and strike my name from your roll.

Very sincerely yours,
HENRY J. VAN DYKE, JR.

There was a silence after this for several minutes. The brothers hemmed and hawed and looked at one another with questioning glances. It is not unlikely they would still be sitting there but for a happy thought of Brother Halsey, of the Franklin Avenue Church, who suggested that as there were so few of the members present it would be well to put the matter over until the next regular meeting. A half dozen grateful brothers promptly and joyously seconded the suggestion and it was carried unanimously.

The Cincinnati Commercial says of Mr. W. C. Tower's success there in "The Messiah" Mr. Tower was a surprise as well as a pleasure, for the public here knew next to nothing about him. We had listened to Winch, Varley and Adams, and we have local tenor singers not to be neglected, but we have never had in oratorio any singer equal to Tower. The writer of this has heard Sims Reeves and many other tenors in this great rôle, but with the exception of Reeves, not one to be compared with this gentleman. We say it was a surprise to us that such an artist as Tower lived in this country, but we venture to remark if he were to sing the 'Messiah' in Boston, where he resides, it would create equal surprise. Boston is Boston. Musical cliques and prejudices have more sway there than in any other city in this country. Mr. Tower is favorably known in the concert room, but we are quite sure he has never sung in oratorio, or in any concerts of Handel and Haydn Society. Cincinnati warmly commends this excellent artist to the attention of the Boston public."

The largest stone quarried in 3000 years was used in the construction of the obelisk to the memory of Major-General John Ellis Wool, which has just been exposed to public view in Troy, N. Y. General Wool was a distinguished soldier of the war of 1812, having been shot through both thighs at the storming of Queenstown, and having covered himself with glory at the battle of Plattsburg, two years later. Moreover, as second in command he helped Taylor at Buena Vista, and after a dozen years of honorable service in the West fought throughout the great war of the Rebellion. General Wool left $50,000 for a monument to his wife and himself. The late William Cullen Bryant became interested in the monument scheme, and before his death wrote inscriptions for it. The stone for the immense shaft, weighing 200,000 pounds, was obtained from Vinalhaven, on Fox Island, Me. Its transportation to Troy cost about $7000. The huge monolith was placed by skillful engineering on a barge and towed through tempestuous waves to the Hudson. It was feared quite often that the stone had sought the bottom of the sea. The monument, as it now stands, seventy-five feet in height, on the summit of an eminence, may be seen for many miles around Troy.

Hon. E. W. Stoughton, ex-minister to Russia, in a speech at the Banks Club in Boston, said that while minister to Russia he was put in possession of facts concerning a scheme proposed by England in 1780 81 to Queen Catherine of Russia, in which England agreed to cede the island of Minorca, in the Mediterranean, to Russia, if she would combine with Germany to force France to withdraw her fleets from American shores. Catherine refused what she considered a bribe, and, in consequence of that refusal, said Mr. Stoughton, the struggling armies of the colonies were in the end victorious, and the United States made an independent nation.

BOSTON'S NEW LITERARY CLUB.

The new club to be organized in Boston on the pattern of the Century Club in New York had its conception in an artists' studio here last summer. A few well known gentleman took hold of it in earnest a few weeks since. They arranged a system of invitation. The responses under it were very large, and the club will probably have to be circumscribed in its membership to a degree that will shut out not a few men whose talents and position would make them desirable members. The idea appears to have been originally to organize a club of literary men and those engaged in art. There is a very fine representation of these features in it; but those selected for intellectual or artistic tastes rather than achievement, or because of wealth and social position, are likely to greatly preponderate in its members. The club will not be first of all a literary club, therefore. It bids fair to represent excellently, however, what is distinctive about Boston. Several members who are expected to be active in this club are at present members of the Union Club. Papyrus is somewhat drawn upon too.—[Boston letter to the Hartford Courant.

GETTING UP A RELISH.

"Aunt Prudence," in the American Grocer, says there is one branch of cookery which is rather apt to be overlooked, and that is the preparation and supply of some one nice, semi-hearty dish for tea—some relish, as it is very rightly called. some dish which may be either hot or cold, but which must be either salt or sour, and which will give tone to the bread and butter and cake which are ordinary staples of the tea table. Salads come as near satisfying all tastes as it is possible to do, and are by no means as unwholesome as is generally supposed. Sweet oil, which is the only ingredient which can be called rich, is rather wholesome than otherwise, and a properly-made salad should not disagree with any one. Cream is a very good substitute for oil in the preparation of a salad dressing, and fresh, sweet butter is even better, neither of which disagrees with dyspeptics, and both of which are easily procured in country places, where good sweet oil is scarce and dear. There is always something left in the cupboard which will do for a salad, if it is only a dish of cold potatoes. If there is a slice or two of cold meat, or a plate of cold string beans, cold beets, a few leaves of lettuce, a dish of cold greens; in short, the list is so long of things which make a good salad, that it is difficult to go amiss among the usual household supplies. We will suppose that you have only cold potatoes. In that case chop them finely and heap them in the centre of a platter. Take an even teaspoonful of ground mustard and a saltspoonful of salt, and mix them to a paste with vinegar. It is best to use a fork for this, and to mix it in a soup plate. Now add the yolk of one egg, being careful not to allow the white of the egg to follow; that you can reserve for your coffee the next time you brown it. Stir the yolk thoroughly through the mustard, and begin to add sweet oil in small portions, not more than a teaspoonful at once, but add constantly as you mix. If the dressing becomes too hard or looks stringy, add a spoonful of vinegar from time to time, but not often. It should become a light, creamy mass, and it will if it is properly stirred; and you go on adding oil and vinegar until you have the necessary quantity, when you taste to see if it is sufficiently salt or sour, and if not, add either salt or vinegar as you wish. Pour this mixture over the potatoes, smoothing it with a knife blade. Now, if you wish to impress your family with the idea that this is something very fine, you had better make a border of crisp lettuce leaves around the salad by pushing the stems of the leaves underneath, and if you can find a stray radish in the garden, cut it in thin slices and lay them in figures over the surface. The half of an onion, minced very fine and mixed with the potatoes, is to the masculine palate a great addition to the above dish. A herring split into fibres and added will also meet with general favor. And, in short, dear housewives, this plain potato salad is the canvas, the ground work for embroidery the field upon which you may exercise your fancy and your genius. If you have a slice of cold corned beef or ham, or cold lamb or mutton, chop them and add to the potatoes. If you have a cucumber, slice that and put it in the dish. If you have cold beans, use them alone with bread crumbs; and, in short, make your salad of what you please, but make it well.

THE OLD YEAR.

If this old year with all the lessons of hard experience could come again, and we could live it over once more, would we be any better? Would we live it any better?

Yes, yes, indeed, we would not. We wouldn't be a particle better. We would be worse. We would be smarter, we would have some new tricks that we had learned. We wouldn't be so easily fooled, but we wouldn't be any better. Isn't one year's experience, brethren, just about as useful as another's? and yet are we any better one year than we were the year before? Ah no, we are apt to be sharper, more suspicious, meaner and less charitable. We learn to behave more discreetly. We learn to wear the grieving, meek look of an idle mule, but we can kick just as hard as ever, and are just as apt to lift a fellow man over the moon, when the opportunity presents itself. [Burdette.

Mr. Jennings writes from London to the New York World: There is some curiosity felt as to the result of Mr. Parnell's visit to the United States. He will doubtless make many speeches, but depend upon it there is much in the "Irish question" which he will not attempt to expound. You will hear of the oppressions of the landlords and the frightful burden of rent which presses upon the tenantry—but will Mr. Parnell tell you how many landlords get their rent, or how many tenants ever dream of paying it regularly? I do not wish to pronounce here any opinion upon the questions at issue, but simply to make a reference to matters of fact. Rents, it is said, are too heavy in Ireland. But do the occupiers of land pay them? I know of one estate on which out of 275 tenants only nine are not in heavy arrears for rent, and some have not thought of paying a sixpence for two or three years past. And yet the rents on this estate are lower than they were twenty-five years ago. Which is the party most "oppressed" here, landlord or tenant? And if this happened on any property elsewhere—say in New York, on the Astor or any other estate—what would be the consequence? Would any one be sent over to London to beg money for the poor down-trodden tenants?

GAS.—Gas, it must be remembered, has hardly had a fair chance yet of showing what it may be made capable of. It has had no rival from without or from within. Gas may survive Mr. Edison's inventions, and we hope and believe it will survive them, and be as profitable as ever to its dependents. But it must not expect to be exempted from the law of the survival of the fittest. If dim gas and sulphurous gas and dear gas are to disappear from the world, we will confess in all truth that we shall part from them with no regret.—[London Times.

ANSWER THIS.

Did you ever know any person to be ill, without inaction of the stomach, liver or kidneys, or did you ever know one who was well when either was obstructed or inactive; and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure? PUT YOUR HOUSES IN ORDER!

Which you can do very cheaply, by sending your orders for all kinds of

Painting, Graining,

KALSOMINING,

In fact, all work required to put the house in order for use at once, from cellar to attic, and at fair prices, as we are working very low this spring. It will pay to get prices from this establishment before closing your contracts for

PAINTING, &c.,

As we will WARRANT to do as good work and furnish as good stock as can be done in this or any other city.

I also paint and varnish carriages, from a wheelbarrow or baby carriage, to the largest coach, and use the best of varnishes on the best of jobs, and will use the poorest varnish on the cheapest jobs.

I keep in stock several kinds of varnish to sell by the measure. Have all grades of Valentine's varnish, in one gallon cans, which will be sold at small advance from cost. This varnish is used altogether by Brewster of New York, and other first class carriage makers. Have on hand, about

ONE HUNDRED

CARRIAGES!

What Raw Grain Will Do!

Monday evening a four-horse team, owned by Chas. Taft, of Providence, came to Millbury with a driver to move the goods of Mr. S. J. Emerson to Providence. Arriving here at 6 o'clock, the horses were put up at D. A. Powers's stable, and soon afterwards two of them were taken sick with the colic. One of the pair, which cost $500, died, and the other will get well. The horses then at home were fed on steamed feed, while on the road they were fed on cracked corn, which probably caused the colic.—[Worcester Spy.

POLLY'S EXCUSE, OR BIJAH LEE'S LOVE-MAKING.

BY BEATRICE.

Oh! well I heard my mother's voice,
Calling so loud and shrill,
And well I knew that Jennie Joyce
Had gone to tend the mill;
That Jamie, in the tall fir-tree,
A poor bird's heart was breaking,
Yet still I lingered in the grove
To Bijah Lee's love-making.
"Another kiss, my darling!"
"Now Bijah Lee, what folly,
When mother's loudly screaming,
'Where on airth is Polly?'"

"Oh! please stop hugging, Bijah,
Indeed, I must be gone,
For in the well be dreadful riled,
Thinking about the corn.
The pumpkin must be sliced
To make a batch of pies;
And there's the best room yet to dust,
And drive out all the flies."
"Just one more kiss, my darling;"
"Now, Bijah, think what folly,
Do hear my mother screaming,
'Where on airth is Polly?'"

He held me lightly, till I said
That I would name the day;
I really thought he'd strangle me
Before I got away,
I'm sure I never shall forget
That pleasant August morn,
When all the men were off to work,
And the cows were in the corn,
When Bijah Lee I chided
For his presumptuous folly,
While mother loudly shouted,
"Where on airth is Polly?" —[Folly.

SUNDRIES.

The wind always finds something to blow about.

The flower of a family is generally in a sacque.

People pick their teeth, and yet they do not always get good ones.

It amounts to nothing, but a town out in Nevada has been named Zero.

Many a crooked backed boy has made a straighforward man.—[Yonkers Gazette.

The man who sells oleomargarine for butter does not move in the cream of society.

One of the things you don't want to be too generous with is your temper. Keep it.

The painter who fell over with his ladder full of paints went down with colors flying.—[McGregor News.

It is very much the same with popping corn as with popping the question. It is usually accompanied by some agitation and a good deal of warmth.

Willum—"Not quite so active as you was twenty years ago, Tummas." Tummas—"No, I hain't, Willum; I find I can't run up a score lately, but if onybody asks me to 'ave a drink, I jumps at the hoffer."

A washerwoman, a regular and attentive listener at church, was commended by her pastor. "Yes," she said, "after my hard week's work is done, I git so rested to come to church, and sit and think about nothin'!"

A lady was "passing round the hat" in a saloon for the benefit of the poor. "This is for your beautiful eyes," says gallantly a beau of the old school, dropping a five dollar bill in the collection box. "Oh, thanks!" says the fair one with a profound courtesy, "and now I want something for the poor," holding out the box again.

FASHION NOTES.

Sealskins are growing so scarce that a rise in the price the next season is almost inevitable.

A novelty in the faience lamps so fashionable at present is in the shape of a huge pitcher with handles.

High toques, with a dented crown and a deep band of fur, are the proper headgear to accompany a long fur mantle.

The same innate taste that arranges flowers knows how to arrange and decorate the interiors of the humblest rooms.

Empress velvet, a new material which has a heavy silk rib on the outside and a woolly inner surface, is used for the newest wraps.

The French ladies are making entire dresses of otter skin. The gentlemen, the elegants, affect otter skin for waistcoats, and some of them are thinking of reviving the fashion of carrying muffs.

There are many hard tasks set for women in this world, but few which they find it impossible to perform. Still, there never was a woman who could keep a fur-lined circular from flying open and showing the fur.—[Boston Transcript.

Gold is made into bracelets representing many antique designs, but the newest is the serpent bracelet of flexible woven gold wire, three quarters of a yard in length. This is twined around the arm several times, and is so tempered that it will retain its shape as long as the gold endures. The same style is reproduced in silver, as are also the pretty gold bracelets that represent a manacle with a genuine padlock and key. Golden serpents enamelled in such an artistic manner that they seem studded with gems, are also considered great novelties.

An advertisement is a window through which all the world may look into your shop and see just what you wish them to see—no more, no less.

Testimonials.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the patent office.
EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents."
BOSTON, October 19, 1870.
R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly,
GEORGE DRAPER.

THE MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY OF THE 19th CENTURY.

The curative, cleansing and purifying qualities of Sulphur have long been known by Physicians of every nation, who have thus used it freely despite its disagreeableness, and also as a preventive of disease, which latter quality has long been recognized by old and young, learned and unlearned.

WHAT A BLESSING

to suffering humanity that an Elixir compounded from Sulphur agreeable to the taste, yet all-powerful in its action upon the system, has at last been discovered. To a chemist of the "Old Bay State" belongs the credit of discovering and perfecting

THIS SPECIFIC REMEDY,

Elixir of Sulphur, for the treatment of all Pulmonary Diseases, that have heretofore baffled the combined wisdom of the medical profession, far surpassing in efficacy Cod Liver Oil, Bitters, Tonics and every species of stimulants.

INVALIDS

whose stomachs are already over-sensitive and weak from disease, become nauseated at the mention of bitters and disagreeable mixtures and naturally become skeptical, and are reluctant to try new remedies. The testimony of so many living witnesses that has conquered that hydra-headed monster of diseases, Consumption, and its predecessors Catarrh and Bronchitis proves beyond cavil a grand victory and final triumph of the Elixir.

ELIXIR OF SULPHUR

A PROPHET IN HIS OWN COUNTRY

can be found abroad. In the city of Holyoke, over 2000 bottles of Arthur's Elixir of Sulphur were sold the first six months, its wonderful cures winning the endorsement of leading citizens who cheerfully accord honor and praise to their leading Druggist and Chemist of the past twenty years.

Arthur's Elixir of Sulphur is manufactured at the laboratory of the proprietors,

PARTIES LEAVING
TOWN WHO HAVE wells or cisterns to clear before next season can have such work done this month before they are filled by the fall rains, at much more reasonable rates than at any other time in the year. The NEWPORT EXCAVATOR CO. is prepared to do such work with its powerful pump, and guarantee satisfaction in all cases. Vaults and cesspools cleaned by the ODORLESS EXCAVATOR at reasonable rates. Parties sending their orders to P. O. Box 356, may depend upon having their work well done in their absence. s28

HOP BITTERS!
If you are a man of letters, toiling over your midnight work to restore brain nerve and waste, use
HOP BITTERS
If you are young and suffering from any indiscretion or dissipation; if you are married or single, old or young, suffering from poor health or languishing on a bed of sickness, rely on
HOP BITTERS!
Whoever you are, wherever you are, whenever you feel that your system needs cleansing, toning or stimulating, without intoxicating, take
HOP BITTERS!
Have you dyspepsia, kidney or urinary complaint, disease of the stomach, bowels, blood, liver, or nerves? You will be cured if you use
HOP BITTERS
If you are simply weak and low spirited, try it! Buy it. Insist upon it. Your druggist keeps it.
It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.
